M L 126
COMMUNICATIONS
FOREIGN MISSIONS IN DEBT

PORTFOLIO comes home.

An appeal for assistance has been lodged at the time of writing, with a sense of anxiety and regret. But it is early to speak of failure or disappointment. The relief will come, we hope, in time. We need the support of friends and colleagues to encourage us in the task, and to help us in the work of prevention. A NEW ALARM FOR THE PUBLIC

My dear friends,

I am sorry to say that the position of our country is not as favorable as it might be. The situation is critical, and we need your help. Our foreign missions are in debt, and we are in danger of seeing them collapse. We need your support to keep them going. We are not alone in this, for many other countries are in the same situation. We ask you to join us in this important effort.

We appreciate all the help we have received, and we are grateful for your continued support. We look forward to seeing you soon, and we hope to see you at our next meeting. Thank you for your understanding and cooperation.

Yours sincerely,

[Signature]

---

We publish this week the conclusion of a public speech on the subject of domestic finance. The paper was read in the House of Commons on Thursday last, and was received with great interest. The speaker dealt with the subject in a most lucid and comprehensive manner, and his arguments were received with applause. We commend the paper to our readers, and we recommend them to read it with care and attention.

E. J. Smith

---

As the situation is critical, we urge you to take action now. We need your help to keep our foreign missions going. We are not alone in this, for many other countries are in the same situation. We ask you to join us in this important effort.

We appreciate all the help we have received, and we are grateful for your continued support. We look forward to seeing you soon, and we hope to see you at our next meeting. Thank you for your understanding and cooperation.

Yours sincerely,

[Signature]